Origin of Tennis

Tennis is believed to have originated from 'court tennis', which started in France around the fourteenth century. The modern game first appeared in Wales in 1873. The sport became popular throughout the British Empire and spread quickly around the world. The first men's championship was held at the All-England Club (known today as Wimbledon) in 1877, with the first women's championship held in 1884.

Tennis Today

In 1923, the Annual General Meeting in Paris drew up the official ILTF Rules of Tennis, which were implemented from 1 January 1924. In 1977, the ILTF 'dropped' the word "lawn" to take on its present name, the International Tennis Federation (ITF). There are 201 member countries of the ITF.

One of the world's most famous athletes, Germany's Steffi Graf is the most successful women's tennis player of all time. They dubbed her success at winning the Grand Slam (the Australian Open, Wimbledon, the French Open and the United States Open) and the Seoul 1988 Olympic women's singles gold medal as "the Golden Slam". No other woman has ever achieved this feat. Steffi also has won a bronze medal in women's doubles at the 1988 Olympic Games and a silver medal in women's singles at the Barcelona 1992 Olympic Games.

Tennis at the Olympic Games

Tennis was played at the first Modern Olympic Games in Athens in 1896, one of nine sports on the program. There were just two events, the men's singles and doubles (there were no women competing at Athens). Australia had an entry in both. Edwin 'Teddy' Flack, the brilliant runner who won gold medals in both the 800m and 1500m, also tried his hand at tennis. He was beaten in the first round of the singles by a Greek named Akratopoulos. In the doubles he was paired with an English friend George Robertson. They also lost in the first round to a Greek duo, Demis Kasdaglis and Demetrious Petrokokkinos, who were eventual silver medalists in the tournament.

After the Paris Olympic Games of 1924, tennis did not appear again in the Olympic program until Seoul in 1988, with professionals allowed to compete.

Australia has won a medal at every Olympic Games since the sport was reintroduced at Seoul in 1988. In Seoul, Liz Smylie and Wendy Turnbull won a bronze medal in the women's doubles; in Barcelona in 1992, Rachel McQuillan and Nicole Bradtke (nee Provis) also won bronze in the women's doubles; and in Atlanta in 1996, Todd Woodbridge and Mark Woodforde won Australia's first tennis gold medal in the men's doubles.

Tennis in Australia

Organised competitive tennis has been played in Australia since around 1900. An Australasian association was formed with New Zealand to the two countries could combine in international competitions such as the Davis Cup.

The union didn't last long. In 1922, New Zealand wished to separate and Australia became an independent tennis federation recognised by international administrators.

During the 1970s, developments in the sport led to the considerable upgrading of the Australian Open tournament and later, the development of Melbourne Park.

Origines du tennis

Pour certains, les origines du tennis remontent au « tennis sur court », qui a fait son apparition en France vers le XIV^e siècle. Le jeu moderne est né au Pays de Galles en 1873. L'empire britannique a contribué à la popularité de ce sport qui s'est rapidement établi dans le monde entier. Les premiers championnats masculins ont eu lieu en 1877 au All England Club, connu aujourd'hui sous le nom de Wimbledon. Le premier championnat féminin y a été organisé en 1884.

Le tennis de nos jours

En 1923 à Paris, l'assemblée générale annuelle a rédigé les règles officielles du jeu de tennis, applicables à partir du 1^{er} janvier 1924. En 1977, l'ITF a abandonné son ancienne dénomination où paraissait le mot « gazon » pour devenir la Fédération Internationale de Tennis (ITF). L'ITF compte 201 pays membres.

L'Allemande Steffi Graf, l'une des plus célèbres joueuses du monde, est la meilleure joueuse de tennis de tous les temps. Elle est la seule joueuse à avoir remporté le Grand Chelem d'or, à savoir les Internationaux d'Australie, de France, de Grande-Bretagne et des Etats-Unis la même année, titres auxquels elle a ajouté une médaille d'or olympique en simple à Séoul en 1988. Steffi a également décroché une médaille de bronze en double dames aux Jeux de 1988 et une médaille d'argent en simple à Barcelone en 1992.

Le tennis aux Jeux Olympiques

Lors des premiers Jeux Olympiques de l'ère moderne, à Athènes en 1896, le tennis faisait partie des neuf sports représentés. Seuls les hommes étaient présents, en simple et en double. L'Australie était représentée dans les deux épreuves. Edwin « Teddy » Flack, grand coureur médaillé d'or en 800 et 1 500 mètres, s'est également essayé au tennis, mais il fut battu au premier tour du tournoi par le Grec Akratopoulos. En double, associé à un ami anglais, George Robertson, il fut également éliminé au premier tour par la paire grecque composée de Demis Kasdaglis et Demetrious Petrokokkinos, futurs médaillés d'argent.

Après les Jeux de Paris en 1924, le tennis a disparu du programme olympique jusqu'à Séoul en 1988, les professionnels étant alors les bienvenus.

Depuis le retour du tennis parmi les sports olympiques, l'équipe d'Australie a remporté une médaille lors de chaque compétition olympique. A Séoul, Liz Smylie et Wendy Turnbull ont décroché le bronze en double dames. A Barcelone en 1992, Rachel McQuillan et Nicole Bradtke (née Provis) ont fait de même. A Atlanta en 1996, Todd Woodbridge et Mark Woodforde ont offert à l'Australie la première médaille d'or en tennis de son histoire en s'imposant dans le double messieurs.

Le tennis en Australie

Des compétitions de tennis sont organisées en Australie depuis environ 1900. Une association d'Australasie réunissait alors l'Australie et la Nouvelle-Zélande pour permettre aux deux pays de participer aux compétitions internationales comme la Coupe Davis.

L'association n'a cependant pas duré. En 1922, la Nouvelle-Zélande a décidé de dissoudre cette association, et l'Australie a donc créé une fédération de tennis indépendante, reconnue par les instances internationales du sport.

Dans les années 1970, l'évolution considérable du tennis a contribué à promouvoir l'Open d'Australie et plus tard le développement du complexe Melbourne Park.

The Olympic tennis competition will be held from Tuesday 19 September (Day 4) to Thursday 28 September (Day 13). All matches will be held at the NSW Tennis Centre at Sydney Olympic Park.

The maximum number of athletes who may compete in the Olympic tennis competition is 172 unless otherwise agreed by the International Tennis Federation (ITF) and the IOC.

COMPETITION FORMAT

The Olympic tennis competition will comprise singles and doubles competitions for men and women. All competitions will be conducted in a single elimination format. There will be 64 athletes in both the men's and women's singles competitions, and 32 pairs in both the men's and women's doubles competitions.

Singles

Sixteen players are seeded and the remaining players are drawn. The winner of each match advances to the next round. The loser of each match is eliminated. The winners of the two semifinal matches advance to the final gold medal match. The winner of this match receives the gold medal and the loser receives the silver medal. The losers of the two semifinal matches compete for the bronze medal, with the winner receiving the bronze medal.

Doubles

Eight teams are seeded and the remaining teams are drawn. The winners of each match advance to the next round. The losers of each match are eliminated. The winners of the two semifinal matches advance to the final gold medal match. The winners of this match receive the gold medal and the losers receive the silver medal. The losers of the two semifinal matches compete for the bronze medal, with the winners receiving the bronze medal.

Draw

Where practical, no two players from the same country shall be placed in the same quarter of the Draw.

All matches will be the best of three sets except for the men's singles and doubles finals, which will be the best of five sets. The tie-break shall operate in every set except the fifth set in the final of the men's singles and doubles events, and the third set in all other matches, where an advantage set will be played.

RULES OF TENNIS

The tennis competitions at the Sydney 2000 Olympic Games will be held in accordance with the ITF Rules of Tennis 2000 and the Olympic Charter which are in force at the time of the 2000 Olympic Games.

Pursuant to the Olympic Charter, the ITF assumes the responsibility for the technical control and direction of its sport at the Olympic Games.

The Draw

The Draw shall be conducted in public by the ITF, and shall be made not later than 48 hours prior to the start of the Olympic tennis competition.

Jury

The ITF shall select seven persons to form the Jury of Appeal, of which no more than two members shall be from the same country. The Jury shall settle any on site disputes during the Olympic tennis competition in respect of any ruling given by the ITF, the Referee (where such ruling is appealable) or other person in respect of an incident which has taken place during the competition.

Les compétitions olympiques de tennis se dérouleront du mardi 19 septembre (jour 4) au jeudi 28 septembre (jour 13). Tous les matches se disputeront au Centre de tennis du Parc olympique de Sydney (POS).

Le nombre total d'athlètes pouvant prendre part à ces compétitions sera limité à 172, sauf avis contraire de la Fédération Internationale de Tennis (ITF) et du CIO.

FORMAT DES COMPETITIONS

Les compétitions olympiques de tennis comprendront des tournois en simple et en double pour hommes et femmes. Tous les tournois seront basés sur le principe de l'élimination directe. Chaque tournoi masculin et féminin en simple sera disputé par 64 athlètes, et chaque tournoi masculin et féminin en double par 32 paires.

Simple

Seize joueurs seront des têtes de série et les autres seront tirés au sort. Le vainqueur de chaque match accèdera au tour suivant. Le perdant de chaque match sera éliminé. Les gagnants des deux matches de demi-finale se disputeront la médaille d'or en finale. Le vainqueur de ce match recevra la médaille d'or et le perdant la médaille d'argent. Les perdants des deux demi-finales s'affronteront pour la médaille de bronze.

Double

Huit équipes seront des têtes de série et les autres seront tirées au sort. Les vainqueurs de chaque match accèderont au tour suivant. Les perdants de chaque match seront éliminés. Les équipes gagnantes des deux matches de demi-finale se disputeront la médaille d'or en finale. Les vainqueurs de ce match recevront la médaille d'or et les perdants la médaille d'argent. Les équipes perdantes des deux demi-finales s'affronteront pour la médaille de bronze.

Tirage au sort

Dans la mesure du possible, un seul concurrent par pays sera représenté dans chaque quart du tableau.

Tous les matches se joueront en trois sets, sauf lors des finales masculines en simple et en double qui se décideront au meilleur des cinq sets. Le jeu décisif sera appliqué pour tous les sets à l'exception du cinquième set des finales masculines en simple et en double, et du troisième set de tous les autres matches, où s'appliquera la règle de l'avantage.

REGLEMENT DES COMPETITIONS

Les compétitions de tennis se dérouleront conformément au règlement de la Fédération Internationale de Tennis (ITF) - édition 2000 - et à la Charte olympique en vigueur au moment des Jeux Olympiques de Sydney 2000.

En vertu de la Charte olympique, l'ITF assume la responsabilité du contrôle et de la direction techniques du tennis aux Jeux Olympiques.

Tirage au sort

Le tirage au sort sera effectué en public par l'ITF, au plus tard 48 heures avant le début des compétitions olympiques de tennis.

Jury

L'ITF nommera un jury d'appel composé de sept personnes et ne comprenant pas plus de deux personnes provenant du même pays. Ce jury sera chargé de résoudre tout différend durant la compétition olympique de tennis concernant toute décision prise par l'ITF, l'arbitre (s'il peut être fait appel de sa décision) ou toute autre personne, au sujet d'un incident s'étant produit durant la compétition.
